

INTERPERSONAL SKILLS PEER EVALUATION

Your name: _____

Group number (if applicable): _____

Person you are evaluating: _____

NOTE: If any of the following points are not relevant to your group's activity, leave the item blank. Check the box that best describes your experience with the person you are evaluating.

	Rarely	Infrequently	Occasionally	Frequently	Consistently
1. To what extent did this group member show interest in your group's activity?
2. To what extent did this group member contribute meaningfully to your group's activity?
3. To what extent did this group member cooperate with his/her other group members? Examples of cooperative behavior include showing willingness to compromise, encouraging and acknowledging the contributions of others, and facilitating consensus decision making among group members.
4. To what extent did this group member demonstrate effective listening skills?
5. To what extent did this group member accurately and effectively interpret verbal cues during the activity?
6. To what extent did this group member accurately and effectively interpret non-verbal cues during the activity?
7. To what extent did this group member express him/herself accurately and effectively through the use of verbal cues?
8. To what extent did this group member express him/herself accurately and effectively through the use of non-verbal cues?
9. To what extent did this group member contribute to constructive resolution of disagreements and/or disputes within the group? (If this is not relevant to your group, leave #9 blank)
10. To what extent did this group member display actions and attitudes that you consider to be supportive and /or respectful of fellow group members?

COMMENTS:

